International Journal on Organic Electronics (IJOE)

AIRCC Publishing Corporation

SCOPE OF THE JOURNAL

This journal focuses on novel organic materials and characterization of organic and nanoscale electronic devices, such as high-performance organic thin film transistors, carbon nanotube transistors, inorganic semiconductor nanowire field-effect transistors, and organic/inorganic hybrid radial superlattices. The Journal serves as a platform to discuss original research work in experiment, theory and applications covering areas of research such as physics, chemistry, and engineering of materials with applications to organic electronics and optoelectronics.

Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- Discovery and development of conductive polymers
- Physics of liquid crystals
- Physics of polymer light emitting diodes
- Physics of small molecule based light emitting diodes
- Thin film transistor technologies
- Organic solar cells
- From single transistors to logical circuits
- Pixel circuits of organic light emitting displays

Review Process

Submissions are accepted for review with the understanding that the same work has been neither submitted to, nor published in, another publication. Simultaneous submission to other publications will result in immediate rejection of the paper. Papers are not within the journal scope will be rejected immediately after the pre review process.

All manuscripts will be subject to a well established, fair, unbiased peer review and refereeing procedure, and are considered on the basis of their significance, novelty and usefulness to the Journals readership. The reviewing structure will always ensure the anonymity of the referees & it will be reviewed by 3 experts in the field. The review output will be one of the following decisions:
